College Course Description

This course introduces students to the characteristics of the criminal justice system in the United States. Focused is placed on examining crime measurement, theoretical explanations of crime, responses to crime, components of the system, and current challenges to the system. The course examines the evolution of the principles and approaches utilized by the justice system and the evolving forces which have shaped those principles and approaches. Although justice structure and process is examined in a cross cultural context, emphasis is placed on the US Justice System, particularly the structure and function of US police, courts, and corrections. Students are introduced to the origins and development of criminal law, legal process, and sentencing and incarceration policies.

Required Content for Articulation

1. Understanding the Criminal Justice System
2. Crime and Victimization
3. Law Enforcement
4. Courts and Sentencing
5. Punishment and Corrections
6. The Future of Criminal the Criminal Justice System

Required Competencies (SLOs) for Articulation

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to do the following:

1. Identify the major components of the criminal justice system.
2. Describe the differences between federal and state courts.
3. Identify the major theories, which attempt to explain crime causation.
4. Identify the processes by which a criminal case progresses from investigation to appeal.
5. Identify the Bill of Rights Amendments that have the greatest impact on the criminal justice system.

Assessment Methods

A grading system will be established by the instructor and implemented uniformly. Grades will be based on demonstrated proficiency in subject matter determined by multiple measurements for evaluation, one of which must be essay exams, skills demonstration, or, where appropriate, the symbol system.

1. Quizzes that measure student's ability to apply principles related to crime theories and justice.
2. Research assignments that demonstrate student's ability to evaluate methods, theories and concepts of criminal justice practices.
3. Class presentations, which measure student's ability to demonstrate an understanding of criminological theories.
4. Exams including a comprehensive written final exam, which measure student's ability to apply principles of crime and justice from varying perspectives.
