Cuyamaca College Economic Development Center Presentation

Chancellor Suarez called on Interim President Agosto, who introduced Dr. Kay Hartig, Executive Dean, Educational Development and Services, Cuyamaca College. Hartig presented an overview of the Economic Development Center, which houses the Regional Environmental Business Resource and Assistance Centers (REBRAC) and Customer Service Training programs. Hartig introduced Ted Cudal, Director of REBRAC, and his assistant, Vivian Bogue. Cudal provided an overview of the REBRAC program and potential course offerings and workshops in the area environmental health and safety. Dr. Anthony Zambelli, Project Director for the Customer Service Training Program, presented information about the program, which provides call center training to 60 students every eight weeks. Zambelli also shared information about a new grant program, which will provide funding for a noncredit Customer Services Academy involving a consortium of all area community colleges.

Adjournment

Board President Kendrick adjourned the meeting at 7:32 p.m.
