

Public Safety and Emergency Preparedness Council Fall 2016 Newsletter

Everyone, everywhere, should know how to protect themselves during earthquakes. On October 20, 2016 at 10:20am, the Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District will join more than 9 million others in the upcoming Great California Shake Out. You will receive a text message notification from Blackboard Connect to begin the drill at 10:20am. Please encourage your department and students to practice drop, cover and hold.

Special Note: As of June 2016, citation prices for the GCCCD campuses have increased. For a full listing of citation prices, please visit the Public Safety Website here.

Building Marshals Now Operational

You may have noticed that there is now a working team of 60+ building marshals throughout the District- with more on the way! All marshals have been certified through a 2-hour course to assist with basic evacuations and building communication needs.

During an evacuation, the marshals will receive instructions from proper authorities. Please comply when a marshal asks you to evacuate a building. They will be recognizable by their bright vests and name badges.

To participate as a building marshal, email Nicole Conklin at Nicole.conklin@gcccd.edu
